THE TRUSTEE'S MEETING

First Resolution Calling Bond Election for Purchasing Water System

SELFISH INTERESTS

Are Making Efforts to Block the Will of the People. Don't Be Fooled by their Specious Arguments

The regular meeting of the Board of Trustees met Thursday night, all being present and the City Engineer meeting with the Board for the first time since his return from his vacation trip to Canada.

Attention was called to the lateness of the hour at which the street lights were being turned on, and the City Clerk was instructed to call the attention of the Light Company and to request them to turn the lights on at the hour specified in their contract.

This being the first meeting of the month, the officers submitted their reports:

The Superintendent of Streets reported $26 collected for dog licenses and street permits.

The City Marshal collected $9. The City Recorder collected $35.

The Building Inspector collected $45.62.

September was the lightest month of the year in the building line. Only $4,280.50 worth of permits were issued during the month. Among these were permits to E. F. Oberdeck for a residence, $1,000, and a permit to Mrs. K. C. Williams for a residence costing $1,500.

The City Clerk's report was as follows:

Balance September 1.....$3,069.38

Receipts for the month:

Brand Boulevard..... 823.55

Building Inspector..... 45.62

Street Supt..... 26.00

City Marshal..... 9.00

Total.....$4,008.55

Disbursements for month.....1,044.56

Balance October 1.....$2,963.99

The City Treasurer's report was as follows:

General Fund.....$3,123.20

Receipts for month..... 939.17

Total.....$4,062.37

Paid on warrants.....1,039.56

Balance October 1.....$3,022.81

The following accounts were allowed and warrants ordered drawn for same:

A. J. Press.....$ 5.68

Valley Press.....14.50

Sentinel.....18.00

J. L. Fishback.....13.20

C. L. Jennings.....45.62

The animal or so-called chicken ordinance came up for final passage and after being read for the third time objection was made by some of the chicken men present to the provision that requires an annual permit, but this objection was met by the City Attorney with the explanation that in order to make an ordinance of such character effective it was necessary to have such provision in the ordinance, but that the renewal of the permit could be secured without cost and with but little trouble. With this explanation the objection was withdrawn and the ordinance passed, all members of the board voting aye.

The City Engineer was instructed to submit an estimate for the acquisition, construction and completion of a water works system and the acquisition of the necessary water rights necessary for supplying water to the city of Tropico.

The Engineer submitted his report and estimated this expense at $80,000, and the report was ordered placed on file, whereupon the following resolution was unanimously passed by the Board:

"A Resolution of the Board of Trustees of the City of Tropico determining that the public interest and necessity demand the acquisition by said city of the following municipal improvement, to wit: The acquisition, construction and completion of water

REDEEM THEMSELVES

Tropico Boys Put It All Over Owensmouth

The Owensmouth Babies met defeat at the hands of the Tropico team for the second time at the local grounds last Sunday, and, while not quite as one-sided as the previous game, was every bit as decisive. Owensmouth has infused some new blood into the team, and their felt fielder, Rodax, is a valuable acquisition.

A change in the line-up of the Tropico team worked wonders for the local lads. Mark with covered third like a veteran and Carpenter handled second cleverly. Sam Rich played right field without a flaw. Fishel, a newcomer, showed up well, especially at the bat.

As for the game itself, it started off briskly, Tropico taking one in the first and three in the second with little effort. Two more tallies in the third frame and they had the Owensmouth goat. From that time on the issue was never in doubt. Bidwell pitched his usual heady game and at no time was called upon to extend himself. What looked like a batting rally by the visitors in the eighth inning was occasioned by Hasty's generosity in allowing them to hit the ball in order to give the boys practice. For this reason his strike-outs, fall below his last game, which, by the way, was erroneously recorded as 8 instead of 18. Next Sunday will see the Bullocks team once more in action against the Tropico boys on the local grounds, and if you like to witness a good, clean game of baseball come on down.

Here's the score in black and white:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9

Owens..... 0 1 0 0 1 0 0 1 0—3

Tropico..... 1 3 2 0 0 0 4 *—10

Hits—Tropico 13, Owensmouth 8.

Errors—Tropico 4, Owensmouth 12.

Struck out—By Bidwell 12, by Steinmetz 3.

Bases on balls—Off Bidwell 2, off Steinmetz 3.

Two-base hit—Tropico.

Umpires—Spear and Torvilly.

works and the acquisition of water rights necessary and proper for supplying water for the use of said city and its inhabitants, and for irrigation purposes therein, the cost of which will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of said city." This resolution was adopted by the affirmative vote of Bancroft, Conrad, Hobbs, Oliver and Webster.

This resolution was ordered printed and the election will be called as soon as the necessary formalities can be complied with.

It having been decided to award the contract for the fire engine to the Knox Automobile people, they having submitted the lowest bid as per specifications advertised, the City Attorney was instructed to prepare a resolution of award and contract with the Knox Automobile Company for the purchase of the fire apparatus, in accordance with notice inviting bids and the bids submitted, such contract to give the city the option of making payment in the municipal bonds heretofore issued at par and accrued interest to date of delivery.

The milk and dairy ordinance was passed and ordered printed.

An amendment to Ordinance No. 6 was passed to second reading. This is the ordinance requested by the local photographers.

KILLING GROUND SQUIRRELS.

The Forest Service has had a force of men at work during the recent dry spell killing ground squirrels on the Forest Reserves.

The poison used in this work was prepared according to the following formula:

Strychnine (pulv.)..... 3 oz.

Starch..... ½ pt.

Barley..... 13 gals.

Water..... 3 pts.

The water is placed over a fire and heated to boiling; the starch is dissolved in a half pint of cold water and added to the boiling water, which is stirred carefully to insure uniform consistency. When the starch has become clear remove it from the fire and add the strychnine. Mix this poisoned paste with the barley until every kernel is coated.

This work of squirrel extermination was prompted by the fact that ground squirrels are supposed to be carriers of the bubonic plague flea, and Congress made a special appropriation this year to clean up some of the infested national forest lands so that any work required by the State authorities on adjoining lands would not be lost.

In addition to its sanitary features, there is an economic side to the question which should not be overlooked and which is vitally important. The annual loss of range feed and grain crops from ground squirrels is enormous. Squirrels, where they are left unmolested, destroy at least ten per cent of the grass feed on the range, and on grain land they destroy a much larger percentage of the crop. Ranchmen are generally agreed that this is a very low estimate of the annual loss from these pests, and any work in eradication means a distinct benefit to the agricultural interests of the State, and ranchmen owing land contiguous to the national forests have, as a rule, taken very kindly to the work of extermination and have been anxious to clear their own land of squirrels at the same time that the work was conducted on the national forests.

WINS FINE PIANO.

Miss Martha Cramer has been proven the most popular young lady in Tropico by the fact that in the recent popularity contest conducted by the Tropico Sentinel she received the largest number of votes, thereby winning an excellent piano, this being a $375 instrument from the Wiley B. Allen Music Company of Los Angeles. The winning of this piano by Miss Cramer was entirely satisfactory to a large majority of the residents of Tropico. She is an employee of the Tropico Basket Company, and is the only daughter of her widowed mother. By many actions in this contest Miss Cramer proved that she is a genuine "sport." She was strictly honest in her every action and is certainly worthy of the prize.—Glendale Press.

COMES HOME.

On the first of last June Mr. and Mrs. Burt Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Street left Tropico for a trip through Europe. Mrs. Richardson returned last week and Mr. and Mrs. Street returned Sunday. Mr. Richardson is coming overland by automobile and is now in Kansas. Mayor Bancroft left Tropico Saturday via the Santa Fe train to join Mr. Richardson in Topeka, Kan., and accompany him home.

Mr. Street reports a grand time and says he saw so many things that he has not had time yet to really get things catalogued so he can tell all that he did see.

Last June Mr. Richardson's "36" Pierce-Arrow machine was shipped from Tropico to Buffalo, N. Y., at which place it was overhauled by the Pierce-Arrow factory. The party all met at Buffalo and from there journeyed by auto to Boston, from which place they sailed to Liverpool and shipped the machine. With this machine they traveled through England, France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Holland and Belgium. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson went through Ireland, Scotland and Wales.

Mr. Street says that while they went through a number of countries, yet the distance as we measure distance in this country was not so great, as they only traveled about 3,000 miles in Europe. Mr. Street was at his office Monday, but didn't look like he had just returned from a four months' trip, as he had his sleeves rolled up, busily engaged in getting a "tab on things" and a "line-up" for a good winter's work.

Jim Fishback was all smiles and says he is "sure glad" someone will relieve him of the City Clerk's work and that he is going to celebrate his liberty by taking a three days' quail hunt over in the Riverside country, and that if anyone says streets or Brand boulevard to him while he is gone he will waste at least one load of shot at the guilty party.

IT'S MR. RICH, IF YOU PLEASE.

Sam H. Rich has started the Tropico Express, and in the future will make daily trips to and from Los Angeles, not only for the purpose of accommodating those who have hauling to do, but for the benefit of Samuel's pocketbook as well. Special attention will be given to handling trunks and baggage. At this time Sam has his office with Charley Hunter, but has already instructed one of the leading architects of the city to prepare plans for a two-story brick block, especially designed to meet the demands of his rapidly increasing trade. Until this building is finished Sam will be glad to have orders left with Hunter.

PARENT-TEACHER ASST

Hold First Meeting and Map Out a Busy Season

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Tropico Grammar School held the first meeting of the school year in the school building Friday afternoon, at which a large number of the mothers of the pupils were present. The mothers of the pupils of the Eighth Grade served as entertainment committee, and the programme proved one of unusual interest, as well as very instructive. Mrs. O. M. Carpenter rendered several piano selections. Mrs. Martha McClure, the efficient principal of the Tropico schools, gave a most interesting talk on the home credit system, which aroused the enthusiasm of each mother present as well as gave added zest to the work and efforts of the pupils of the school.

Following the talk several of the mothers in attendance led an interesting discussion relative to the best interests of the schools, teachers, parents and the home.

Among the speakers were Mrs. H. E. Chandler, Mrs. David H. Imbler, Mrs. Mary W. Edwards, Mrs. W. H. Berteaux, Mrs. Chas. A. Barker. The last speaker is a member of the School Board of Tropico, while Mrs. Berteaux was president of the Parent-Teacher Association of last year. Mrs. Hartley Shaw was chosen president of the association for the ensuing school year and promises some very interesting programs which will be rendered by the entertainment committee.

Owing to the rapidly increasing enrollment of the pupils of the school as well as the increase in population of Tropico, the School Board has been obliged to convert the old lunch pavilion, which has served in that capacity the past two decades, into an open-air school room.

This new addition to the school has been well equipped with all the necessary school apparatus, and Monday morning the new teacher, Mrs. Cowan, began her duties in this open-air room with a large enrollment of first-grade pupils.

BOOSTING CALIFORNIA.

"Hands Around the State" is the slogan adopted by the committee of the four California temples of the Order of the Mystic Shrine for the big State tour now arranged to start at Santa Barbara October 20 and end at San Diego November 2, after taking in every city in the State south of Sacramento.

This tour is only a preliminary to a tour of the United States to be made next May, when the organization will go East in four special trains with a band of 100 pieces and the four drill corps of the four temples, delegates and visitors.

In October the State tour will be made in order that all loyal Californians may get behind the movement to advertise to the world that California is one and indivisible when it comes to inviting the world here in 1915. Deep down every man, woman and child in the State loves California. "I Love You, California" is a song that strikes right home to the heart of every Californian, and this song will be the battle hymn by which the great aggregation that goes East next spring will conquer the country.

Some of the best men in the State are behind this movement, a movement that has eliminated all sectional lines, all north, south, east and west boundaries, that is bringing all Californians into one big loving family, ready to do anything to advertise to the world the charms of the Golden State.

GRAPES BRING MONEY.

An exchange says:

Grape growers in northern San Joaquin County are receiving more than $20,000 a day for their shipments to the Eastern market and for deliveries to Stockton wineries. The average daily shipment is about twenty-five cars, and the average price received by the grower per car is about $585. This is figured upon a basis of 75 cents per crate, with 10 cents deducted for crates, leaving 65 cents for the grower, and based upon an average of 900 crates to the car. From this it is found that $439,335 will be distributed among the growers for the 751 cars already shipped, and if the estimate of 1,500 cars is correct the growers will receive $877,500 for the Tokay crop. Add to this amount $250,000 for 25,000 tons of wine grapes that will be crushed by the West wineries, and the total for the grape crop is $1,127,500 for this season, to say nothing of the number of cars of wine grapes shipped by independent buyers and grapes crushed at the Woodbridge wineries.

G. M. H. S.

The first game of the basketball series, which was between the Sophomores and Freshmen, was won by the Sophomores. The score was 13 to 11. The game was very good, the teams being well matched.

The second game, wherein the Seniors and Sophomores fought for the honors, was won by the Seniors. The forwards of the Sophomore team experienced considerable difficulty in getting shots at the basket owing to the splendid work of the Senior guards. On the other hand, the Senior forwards, while getting innumerable shots, were unable to hit the basket. However, the final score was 9 to 4.

Meeting With Success

The Tropico Branch of the Von Stein Academy of Music, which was opened at the home of Mrs. T. C. Rice-Wray, 215 Blanche avenue, several weeks ago, has proven a decided success, and both the grown-up pupils and the parents of the little pupils are greatly pleased with the work.

So far the instruction has been limited to piano, but the Academy is preparing to send a teacher of violin, and if there is sufficient demand voice will also be taught. That the Von Stein stands at the head of the musical profession in Southern California is well known, and the absolute guarantee that stands back of their work protects the pupils completely. The most unusual feature, however, is their insurance plan, which acts automatically in the event of the death or disablement of the wage-earning parent—the pupil in such case receiving his complete musical education free. The weekly recitals and special-rate tickets to all the notable musical events make it possible for the student to have real musical atmosphere, thereby gaining the inspiration necessary for successful work.

ALL INTERESTS AGREED

That Verdugo Canyon Water Must Keep Pure Regardless of Wish

OF PRIVATE PARTIES

And Land Company Will Without Doubt See That They Have More to Lose By Delay than Gain

Last Thursday evening there was a meeting of the Glendale Board of Trustees, the directors of the Verdugo Water Company and Messrs. Pirtle and Hartman, officials of the Los Angeles and Arizona Land Company, a concern that owns considerable property in the Verdugo Canon.

This meeting had been called by the Glendale Board of Trustees with the object in view of reaching an agreement as to a policy between the city authorities, the water company and the land company as to the importance of protecting the purity of the Verdugo water. The Glendale trustees are fully alive to the necessity of taking every precaution to maintain the purity of this water.

There seems to be a misunderstanding between the water company and the land company as to the rights of each other in this matter. It is agreed by all parties that each interest is endeavoring to maintain the purity of the water, but there has been an unfortunate suspicion engendered between the water company and the land company which causes apprehension on the part of each. The land company feels that the water company desires to hamper it in development work, and the water company believes that the land company desires to exercise an unwarranted control of the water.

The matter was discussed for two or three hours, and it is very evident that but little real difference existed between the interests, and if each could put aside the unfortunate suspicion held they all could get together in a short time on an agreed policy.

Contributions from readers are always welcome and very much appreciated.

The latest suggestion for the lowering of the cost of living comes from A. M. Dubin of New York, a delegate to the Chicago meeting of the American Meat Packers' Association. This good man would have the United States stock the Government pasture lands in the West and Southwest with cattle and use the soldiers as cowboys. This suggestion has one merit, at least. It would be an improvement over using the soldiers as line riders to guard the frontier between the United States and Mexico.

Doesn't a little united effort on the part of the citizens result in much good? See the improvement in the appearance of the city since the united effort was made to cut down the weeds. It is true, all the weeds have not yet been cut, but enough to almost change the appearance of the city. Every effort will be made to punish those who have willfully refused or neglected to cut weeds on their property. Much credit is due the Civic Club for agitating and bringing about this very much desired work.

The Sentinel has often had complaints about poor mail service and an effort is going to be made to remedy this trouble. The Sentinel is mailed every Thursday between 12 and 1 p. m., and every subscriber in Tropico and Glendale should have their paper not later than Friday morning, on the first delivery. Any subscriber not so receiving their paper will do us a favor and assist in securing a better mail service for Tropico if they will report to us such failure. A report as to particulars of any other poor service is also wanted. Understand, this is not a fight on local people, but an effort to secure from Los Angeles and from Washington a mail service commensurate with the importance of Tropico. Help us do this.

THEY DO IT DIFFERENTLY HERE.

Consul Frank W. Mahin of Amsterdam says: "The city of Amsterdam owns the gas, water and electricity works, the street railroads, the telephone system, many of the docks and a large amount of ground in the central business section, which is leased for building purposes. Considering all this valuable property, the municipal debt, which stood at $50,625,146 on January 1, 1913, is not high for a city of 591,000 population. The debt was reduced last year by $1,200,000. The annual interest ranges from 2 1/2 to 4 per cent.

The receipts and expenditures of the city for 1914 are officially estimated at $15,649,811, an increase of nearly $800,000 over the estimate for 1913. Receipts and expenditures are always estimated at the same amount.

Over a third of the receipts come from taxes; over a fifth from the municipal undertakings (gas, electricity, street cars, water, etc.), and from rent of ground owned by the city and let on long leases to owners of buildings thereon, these two sources contributing more than half the receipts.

The largest expense item, $3,500,000, is for interest and payments on principal of debt; the next largest is $2,800,000 for educational purposes; poor relief and the support of charitable institutions take $1,200,000; while police, street lighting and fire department together take about the same.

Still some people want private ownership of public utilities! Wonder why? Don't we know as much as the Dutch, or is there some other reason? Wonder why?

OH, THE FARCE OF IT AND THE PITY!

GOSSIP: One who runs from house to house tattling and telling idle rumors. One who spews the slimy, poisonous filth of a weak and perverted, idle mind into a world all sweet and pure and good and fresh. A gossip is a weakling, a pervert, a coward. Of all miserable, contemptible creatures that enumber the earth nothing is more pitiful than is the loathsome object dressed in the habiliments of man or woman running from house to house tattling and telling idle rumors, repeating all the calumnies it has heard from its kind.

A crowd of gossips will get together, and by nods and uplifted brows, insinuation and innuendo, send suggestions from their own foul and polluted minds equally as depraved that will blacken and damn the reputation of the very angels in heaven. Such creatures—yes, creatures, they are not men and women, but foul, creepy, sneaking, slimy, cowardly creatures—such creatures will slip from place to place, leaving the nauseating sweepings of their loathsome minds, but all the time being very careful to protect their cowardly selves with the saving words: "So and so says that so and so told so and so and that so and so said so and so." Oh, the pity of it! Such

LAUNDRY HINTS.

To remove mildew: Soak in a weak solution of chloride of lime for several hours, rinse in cold water.
 Iron rust: Soak the stain with lemon juice and sprinkle with salt, and bleach in the sun.
 Grass stains: Saturate the spot with kerosene, then put in the wash tub.
 Sewing machine oil stains: Rub with lard, let stand for a few hours and wash with soap and cold water.

 Fruit stains: Stretch the fabric over a basin and pour boiling water on the stain.

Varnish and paint: If the stain is on coarse cloth, saturate with turpentine; use alcohol if it is on fine cloth. Sponge with chloroform if a dark ring is left by the turpentine.

HOME HELPS.

When frying mush it improves the crispness if the mush is dipped in white of an egg before frying.

When you undo a parcel, fold the paper and tie the string around it. There will always be a string to fit the bundle without looking for one.

A simple and quick way to clean knobs, lamps or other fixtures of brass is to use a mixture made by dissolving in one pint of vinegar four heaping tablespoonsful of salt. This compound is harmless and leaves no scratches.

A few drops of turpentine on a woolen cloth will clean tan shoes very well. A drop or two of orange or lemon juice will give a brilliant polish to any leather.

creatures are to be found in every community, and found taking the name of Christians, claiming to be followers of the meek and lowly Nazarene. He who in loving charity saith unto their ilk two thousand years ago for the one who was without sin to cast the first stone, and they, like their present-day descendants, sneaked away with cringing head and lowered eyes. Oh, the farce, the travesty on a religion, the very foundation of which is love and charity and helpfulness!

Don't be a gossip. Don't repeat slander. Don't listen to insinuations and innuendoes. Don't belittle yourself to such a degree. Don't do it.

LEARNING TO THINK RIGHT.

It is safe to say that fully 60 per cent of the people we meet daily do not think out their own actions, but rather progress along the lines of least resistance, unobserving and without thought of there being anyone else existing but themselves.

To illustrate: How many people do you meet daily walking on the wrong side of the street? If each person would think, think himself in his right place in every way, there would be less congestion and confusion. Likewise if we would think before we speak there would be less pain in the world.

To illustrate this: Not long ago a young man was being considered for a responsible position. All was ready for the final word and he was asked for one more reference. The young man gave the name of a prominent business man, explaining, "this man knows me only in two ways, first as to my honesty, second as to my application and industry." The president of the organization called upon the reference, whose answer threw the position to another and caused the organization to get hold of a lazy, inexperienced man who spent their money and made a complete failure of the work.

The thoughtless remark that caused this trouble was: "I have only seen this man's work in contracts as they come through my hands. He heads the list, and his orders are always collectable without trouble, but I do not think he has much executive ability."

Two were at fault in this case, but the blame rests its bulk upon the shoulders of the man who volunteered advice that was unsolicited and on a subject he knew nothing about.

Let us keep before us continually these two thoughts until the training they give lifts us to a higher one:

First—I will remember there are many other people in the world besides myself with whom I have equal rights only as I recognize the living principle, "do unto others as I would have others do unto me."

Second—I will never repeat a scandal, offer advice or volunteer a conclusion unless I am fully convinced true good of the highest order will be the result.

THE ALL-IMPORTANT WATER QUESTION.

The water question still agitates the San Fernando Valley towns. The only town that smiles Burbank. San Fernando, only one and a half miles and enjoys herself in peaceful security is lucky from the great San Fernando reservoir, is facing a serious water problem, and the San Fernando Press, a paper in favor of the Owens river water, pertinently asks:

"What will be the cost of securing the aqueduct water, even if San Fernando is annexed to Los Angeles, and what will be the cost of building a pipe line to supply the city? Would it be necessary to have a pumping station, and what is the quality of the aqueduct water?"

These are important, timely and reasonable questions, and if they cannot be answered, and if San Fernando, exceptionally friendly to the proposed use of the aqueduct water, cannot yet tell the answer to these questions, would not Tropico and Glendale be taking desperate chances to place any dependence in this source for a water supply?

Don't be led off by the specious arguments of those with interests to subserve. Just do a little thinking for yourself.

Tropico is exceptionally fortunate in having an abundant water supply from two sources and is absolutely independent of the Owens river water project.

The time may come when it will be advisable to annex to Los Angeles, but this is unquestionably not that time, and it is just as surely the time to secure ownership of the present water system. Suppose the time does come when it is thought best to annex to Los Angeles. What have we lost by owning our water system? Nothing. We will be able to obtain better terms and conditions from the big city. The distribution system will be needed, the land that it is proposed to buy will always be worth what we are paying for it, and the water rights, if we don't want them, can be sold at any time for what we are paying for them, if not for more. No, Tropico has much to gain by buying the present water system and nothing to lose.

Don't let some interested party persuade you into believing that it is your duty to vote against the bond issue, which will be called just as soon as the needed formalities can be complied with. The preliminary resolution was passed at the last meeting of the Board of Trustees, and if anyone says there will be graft connected with the proposition tell him that he lies and The Sentinel will pay your fine and make you a present besides.

Emily Twinby denies that she spoke unkindly of Beatrice Pinckley, and what Sally Cowper said to Eloise Dekker never came to her notice, till Malviney Snedley told it to Pheme Tyndall. Emily says that she can prove it by Theresa Wilberforce and Beatrice Pinckley knows it.

City Engineer Edw. M. Lynch, who has been spending about a month visiting in and near Toronto, Canada, returned last week with Mrs. Lynch. Mr. Lynch says it's good to have so fine a trip and to have Mrs. Lynch back again, but that "there's no place like the San Fernando Valley."

The dance given in the K. of P. Hall, Glendale, last Saturday night by the Big Four was a very fine dance. The hall was decorated with pennants. The crowd was of just the right size, not too few nor too many. The Big Four is composed of four high school boys, Messrs. Dug Balthis, Owen Dibbren, Richard Burke and I. S. Brown. These young fellows have got together and organized to give dances and have good times in general.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Bahrenburg of 322 W. Park are entertaining Mrs. Katherine Bahrenburg and her son, William. It is expected that William Bahrenburg will leave within a few days for an Eastern school, which he will attend during the winter.

Park avenue, last Wednesday evening to celebrate the thirty-third birthday of Mr. George Cointe, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goldsmith, Mr. Hosea Steelman, Dr. Pollack, E. P. Peugeot of Tropico and Mr. Pierce of Glendale were the invited guests. A splendid banquet with refreshments was served. Music, song and story-telling consumed the time until the "wee sma' hours." Messrs. Pierce and Goldsmith presented to Mrs. Cointe an elegantly mounted elk's tooth, besides a number of other presents by guests and out-of-town friends.

Civic Club Meets

The regular meeting of the Civic Club met Tuesday evening and proved to be a very lively session. A number of minor matters were discussed and disposed of, and reports from the different committees submitted, showing that the work in most instances was progressing satisfactorily, and the proposed banquet indefinitely postponed on account of the approaching annual election of the Civic Club which occurs the first Tuesday in November, and the contemplated entertainment to be given by the Thursday Afternoon Club about the first of the month.

The main issue before the club for the evening was the coming water bond election. This matter was discussed fully and the club unanimously pledged the support of its influence, not only to carrying the bond election, but to the future watchfulness as to the municipal plant. A campaign committee composed of Dr. Mabry, Dr. Duncan, B. T. Greenwell, Frank B. McKenney and Harry L. Edwards was appointed to take charge of the club's work in looking after the vote on that occasion.

Still in the Happy Land of Erin

Special to the Sentinel by E. R.

As we passed field after field where cows were feeding we always noticed the stone post in the middle.

We stopped at one of the whitewashed stone dwellings along the way which was a government "shilling a week place." The people are given the home and an acre of land at that price of about a dollar a month—if they will keep it neat and clean. It was then only a little after nine in the morning, so the housewife made apologies for the appearance of the place, but everything looked very neat to us. There was a turf fire in the grate and the copper kettle hanging above it was steaming away. Our driver seemed quite at home and took the accordion from the mantel, seated himself on the crude wooden table in the center of the room and began playing "I'm Afraid to Go Home in the Dark." He asked us if we recognized the tune, and when we smiled assent he said "Come down and open the door." He next played an Irish dance and the old lady could not keep her feet still and began to jig. She was surely a novel picture with the grey locks straggling down the sides of her beaming round face, her hands on her hips, short skirts showing her large shoes, unlaced and the tongues hanging out. Her waist hung loosely over her skirt except where it was held in by her apron in front. But she knew well how to keep time to that music, and it was a delight to see such contentment. She told us of an uncle who had gone to California around the Horn many years ago, settled there and had done well, for he used to send home a plenty to take care of his old mother. She at present had two sons in Boston. Her flower garden was very old fashioned with its many varieties of flowers all mingled together. The driver was picking up a bouquet, some of each color and kind. There was a beautiful white begonia alone, and I told him to leave it, for it was so pretty there. But our hostess said: "Shure an' it's all right; an' th' are not near so nice as yourself." You see, she could feel the effect of the "Stone" in the vicinity. The bouquet was surely grand, with assorted pansies, sweet williams, roses, marigold, pinks, stock and ribbon grass, and when I complimented it the driver said a first-class gardener could not have done better. The woman called her daughter, Minnie, to bring some string and the driver began singing, "Oh, Minnie, My Darling," etc.

As we drove on to Blarney Castle we passed a large establishment where the Blarney tweed is manufactured. The castle is now a lovely, picturesque old ruin of one built in the fifteenth century by Cormac McCarthy. It consists of a massive tower about one hundred and twenty feet high and another lower portion less substantial that is covered almost completely with ivy and some trees have grown up inside. We climbed the spiral stone staircase to the top of the tower. The walls were from four to five feet thick and light came in through tiny, long narrow windows.

We found the "Stone" much worn from the kisses of those who wish to gain that remarkable faculty of persuasion—a sweet, persuasive eloquence almost irresistible, which this famous Blarney stone has been endowed with the power of conferring. In the position in which it is placed it would seem as though one would have to lose all the dignity he ever had to enable him to gain this potent kiss.

On our return to Cork we picked some real Irish shamrock and were shown the difference between this and clover. The sun was now shining brightly and it was rather warm driving along in our topless carriage and we would have been glad to have been back among the large trees around Blarney Castle.

All Interests Agreed

Continued from page No. 1. In the discussion Mr. Pirtle allowed feeling to sway him a little too much, and Mr. Hartranft used too much buncombe in his talk to become a man of his evident ability.

City Attorney W. H. Evans made a clear, concise and logical statement of the city's position, and if the other interests would have been as frank and open all differences could have been adjusted without delay.

It is unfortunate when any controversy arises among neighbors, but Glendale and Tropico are to be congratulated, because that even in the most heated arguments of the contending parties each expressed a sincere desire to maintain the present and protect the future purity of the canon water.
